

NEW JAIL WILL BE BUILT SOON

Two Hundred Thousand Dollar Prison Will Be Erected on Second East.

WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE
COUNTY COMMISSIONERS PREPARING TO ASK FOR BIDS.

Salt Lake county is to have a new jail, and before it is finished it will have cost in the neighborhood of $200,000. The portion of the structure to be built this year will cost $85,000, and next autumn some more will be done. Inside of two years the jail will be completed. The county commissioners have at the present time selected the site for the new building, and the plans for the structure as prepared by the Pauly Jail Construction company of St. Louis.

The commissioners will at once advertise for tenders for the erection of the building and the house for the sheriff, which will occupy the front of the lot. This work will be commenced as soon as a contract can be let for it. The building will be so arranged that the cells can be added in blocks of fifty until the entire 200 planned are in.

The lot which the county owns is on Second East, directly opposite the city and county building, adjoining the plant which furnishes power to that building. The lot is 30 feet long by 57 1/2 feet wide. The jail building proper will be 155 feet long and 44 feet wide. It will be arranged to hold 200 cells of the best design and similar to those placed in the state prison last year. The sheriff's residence will be on an ornamental front and will face the jail building.

There is already a tunnel from the power plant to the engine room, which is slightly widened there will be easy handling of prisoners.

J. W. Lippincott, representing the Pauly company, spent the afternoon with the commissioners yesterday, going over the plans and specifications. The county is furnishing the plans free to the county in the certainty that it will furnish the cells when the building is completed.

TO COMPLETE NEW SCHOOL

Salt Lake Firm Secures Contract to Erect the Jefferson Building.

Arrangements have been made by which A. J. McDonald, contractor, will carry on the work of building the new Jefferson school on the Walker site, in which Vander Horst Brothers of San Francisco, who secured the contract, made default. The board of education has not yet sanctioned the arrangement, but in committee of the board yesterday it seemed that arrangement satisfactory.

When the San Francisco contractors abandoned the work the bondsmen of the Fidelity & Deposit company of Maryland, was notified through its agents, Windsor & Company, yesterday a telegram from the company to its agents was read to the board, saying that McDonald & Co. would carry on the work, and that a full plan of explanation of the arrangements was on the way. The committee took no action, but will meet again when the letter arrives at the call of the chairman, H. P. Henderson.

The McDonald firm has already commenced to carry on the work. The building will be rushed to completion and although it may not be ready for occupancy with the first session of the school year, it will not be much later.

ARRANGING EXHIBITS.

Permanent Show of Utah's Products Replaces Prosperity Fair.

Signs of the past successful prosperity fair held in the chamber of commerce building are fast disappearing, but in a day or two the state animal, mineral, vegetable and horticulture exhibits will be rearranged in place. These displays are on exhibition all of the time, and are a great advertisement for the wealth and industry of the state of Utah. The arrangement of these exhibits will be more attractive than ever this season, as thousands of visitors from all parts of the world are expected to stop in Salt Lake, and of course, one of the first places they will ask to be shown is the display of Utah's industries and resources.

Dr. Hodges, dentist, removed to Elko hotel, corner Third South and Main.

TRUSTEES RETURN OF VAIL

Councilmen Martin and Fernstrom Ask County Attorney to Seek Ex-Fire Chief.

Councilmen F. S. Fernstrom and L. D. Martin were on hand yesterday morning, following the challenge of the latter at the city council Monday evening to take steps to bring back Charles T. Vail, former chief of the fire department, and to have him account for the money of the firemen's trust fund in his hands. To either the councilmen called upon Job P. Lyon, county attorney, and laid the case against Vail before him. Mr. Lyon heard their stories, and told them that if they would furnish him with something more tangible in the form of evidence, he would at once ask the governor for the necessary requisition papers, but that he could scarcely proceed on their bare statements. They left, promising to furnish what evidence was available.

Vail is supposed to be in Nevada. The amount of the funds in Vail's hands has been variously estimated at from $5,000 to $7,000. It was in his charge as chief of the fire department, and when he was removed a majority of the men signed a round robin to the effect that he should be allowed to retain it to use in any business venture which he might undertake. Some weeks after his dismissal Vail left the city.

Then letters were received from Mrs. Vail, in which were insinuations that the firemen's trust fund was being misappropriated by the "American" party, the statement being made that there were at least nine dollars of the fund which had been misappropriated was very small.

The firemen's association is now properly incorporated and handling its funds in a more businesslike fashion. It does not seem probable that sufficient evidence can be presented to warrant Vail's extradition on any charge of embezzlement or misappropriation of trust funds.

STATE STREET IN MURRAY SPRINKLED WITH BEER

Salt Lake Brewing company's beer, in kegs and bottles, was distributed along State street in Murray for a distance of about two blocks, as a result of an exciting runaway. The driver of the wagon was on his way to Sandy with a load of refreshment for the inhabitants of that place, and stopped off at a Murray store in order to purchase a whip. While in the store the driver, who was dashing down State street at a lively clip, collided with a telephone pole in front of the Williams block, and the off wheels of the wagon were crushed, necessitating the destruction of the animal. Over four cases of bottled beer were smashed, while kegs were distributed all along the course. The wagon was demolished.

She set forth that she had helped him by economy to accumulate real estate worth $5,000, and that he has $2,000 in cash on deposit in the banks.

Judge C. W. Morse of the district court made an order restraining him from disposing of any of this money or property and directing him to appear at the next divorce session on Friday to show why he should not pay temporary alimony and be committed.

Mr. Geisler in his complaint says that he has been compelled to earn his own living and that of her children and that the property which is in his name was acquired partly through her efforts in supporting herself and children, thus enabling him to save. She believes he has also other valuable property in a safe deposit vault somewhere.

CHANGES IN UNIVERSITY FACULTY TO FOLLOW ACTION OF BOARD OF REGENTS

The quarterly meeting of the board of regents of the university resulted in a number of changes in the faculty, and other important matters pertaining to the school were discussed. There was no change in the personnel of the faculty, but a number of the men have been advanced and others granted leaves of absence.

Dean Byron Cummings of the school of arts and sciences, who has been in active service in this capacity for a number of years, has been granted a year's leave of absence, which will take effect at the conclusion of the present school year. Professor Cummings will spend the summer in the San Juan region in archaeological research, and at the beginning of the school year he will enroll in the Columbia university for advanced work. Professor Marshall, head of the English department, will act as dean of the school of arts and sciences, and the school of medicine, which was also under Professor Cummings' jurisdiction, will be taken charge of by Dr. John Sundwall. Professor Cummings also conducts a number of classes in the school of arts and sciences, and some competent person will be selected to take these classes during his leave.

THIRD ANNUAL INVITATION ISSUED TO APPLICANTS FOR WALL FELLOWSHIP

Dr. J. F. Merrill, director of the school of mines at the university, has issued the third annual invitation to applicants for the Colonel Enos A. Wall fellowship.

Theodore T. Holt of Oregon is the present holder of the fellowship, and along with Professor R. H. Bradford of metallurgy is doing some remarkable work along the lines of applying the cyanide process to silver ores. The chemical processes involved in the dressing of ores containing these minerals have been thoroughly studied. Professor Bradford says the investigation of Mr. Holt will add greatly to the knowledge of the subject. The results and data obtained from Mr. Holt's investigations will be published in one of the eastern engineering journals.

Regarding the Wall fellowship, Dr. Merrill has issued the following: "Applications are solicited by the Utah state school of mines for the award of the Wall research fellowship in mining, ore dressing, or metallurgy, the applicant must be a graduate of a college or university of recognized standing for will be by July 1, and must be qualified to enter upon research work in mining, ore dressing, or metallurgy. During the school year the holder of this fellowship must be a resident student of the University of Utah, devoting about half of his time to research work and the remainder to study."

"If not personally known to the committee, the applicant should send a statement of his character and ability, and also an abstract of his research work to the committee. The committee will award the fellowship to the young man who seems best qualified to engage in successful research work in one of the three subjects named."

FAIR FIANCE TEALS PRESENTS FROM LOVER

Wedding Gifts Are Taken Too Soon and Bride-to-Be Is Now in Jail.

"Love's Labor Lost, or the Tragedy of E. Bartulovich" might be the title of a drama played out thus far between Murray and Salt Lake. What the third act will be is indefinite as yet, the leading lady, Karlinea Nowak, and her father, "old man character work," being confined in jail on a larceny charge preferred by Bartulovich.

Bartulovich and the girl were sweethearts in the days of the man, true to the Polish custom, had spent a large portion of his earnings in securing a troupe of a quantity of jewelry for his fiancée. Etiquette demands that no gifts shall be made between affianced persons until just before the ceremony. Consequently Bartulovich kept the treasures safely hidden in his trunk at Murray, telling no one but his sweetheart of their whereabouts.

Monday, when he returned from work he discovered the trunk had been broken open and the contents were missing. He reported the loss, which covered only the articles he had purchased for his fiancée. Yesterday Policeman Grundvig, acting on advice from Murray, located the girl and her father in a house at Thirtieth West and Second South street, and placed them under arrest. All of the stolen articles were discovered and later turned over to the Murray officers, who took the girl and her father back to that city for further hearing.

The girl explained to the police here that she had made up her mind not to marry Bartulovich, but as she naively expressed it "took the clothes and jewelry for pay, for having put up with him for so long."

It is believed that Bartulovich will not prosecute.

retary to this faculty. John Z. Brown has been made an assistant professor in physiological chemistry and hygiene. He is now an instructor in these subjects. Upon the recommendation of President J. T. Kingsbury, all the members of the faculty have been retained. All have been in the university except three. It is understood that Professor G. A. Overstrom of mining and mill design is one of those who will not be a school next year. Professor Overstrom is one of the most efficient men on the faculty, and he will leave to engage in mining operations. His successor has not been announced.

Professor Milton Bennion has been appointed director of a newly organized secondary training school, which was created in accordance with the recent legislation granting four hundred normal diplomas and offering high school instruction for two hundred of these.

The last legislature created an engineering experiment station at the school of mines, and the regents have appointed on the experiment staff Dr. J. F. Merrill, director of the school of mines, and the following heads of departments: Dr. W. C. Ebaugh of chemistry, Professor R. H. Bradford of metallurgy, Professor J. A. Overstrom of mining and mill design, Professor E. H. Beckstrand of mechanical engineering, Professor R. L. Lyman of civil engineering, Professor Fred J. Pack of geology, and Dr. John Sundwall of the medical department. The medical department also intends to have an experimental staff as important experiments on public health will be conducted along with the other work of their trade.

Harold Goff has been added to the faculty as an instructor in education. The recent legislature appropriated $2,000 for archæological research. The regents voted $1,000 of this amount for an expedition that will be sent to the San Juan region to make an inventory of the prehistoric ruins and a provision was made for the cataloguing and classifying of the prehistoric archaeological material at the school and cabinets have been provided for them.

Two CALLED BY CASSIDY OF WHOM ONE IS CHOSEN

Policeman Thomas Michael Aloysius Cassidy, ne of the rubicund complexion and Swedish countenance, wandered out in the highways and byways of Salt Lake Monday evening and gathered unto his lonely bosom Arthur Thomas and W. J. Lovelace—shortly thereafter depositing them in the city jail as hostages to his annual bathing average.

Lovelace was in court Monday yesterday that he was a common carrier engaged in the transference of a spirituous cargo at the time he met T. M. Cassidy, and was discharged with a warning.

W. J. Lovelace naively confessed to the fact that he had fallen from grace twice in the same place and nearly in the same day, and drew thirty times 24 hours for each offense. He was in court Monday on a similar charge and was discharged after a conversational hemorrhage having to do with "cheerful, no poor, motherless child," etc. The aforesaid child was proved yesterday to be somewhere in the neighborhood of 35 years of age, and his present whereabouts is said to be unknown.

"Big ones into little ones, and that for you," intoned Police Court Clerk Goff as Lovelace wandered into the dark and dismal depths of the city prison.

W. S. HENDERSON SUES
SYRACUSE CANNING CO.

Improper labeling and short weight are charged by W. S. Henderson in a suit filed yesterday in the district court against the Syracuse Canning company. Henderson says that early in 1908 he contracted for 1,500 cases of tomatoes in two-pound cans. They were delivered in two consignments of 20 cases each, and he paid for them as well as the freight from Syracuse, Utah. He sold 61 cases before he discovered the fraud of two and a half pounds, and can contents weighed two and one-fourth pounds, and the company that he held $38 cents to their order.

He alleges by this short weight he was made continually being called upon by food laws and demands $125 damages as well as $1,632, the value of the goods which he still holds.

SEEKS REDEEM HERSELF

Marie McGuire Encouraged by Gift of Friends to Make a New Start.

Though frail of build, almost too tired of the world's buffets to care whether she lived or died, and but recently the mother of a child born during the time when she was serving a ninety-day sentence in the city jail, Marie McGuire yesterday found cause to continue the battle to redeem herself in the world. Friends of hers at Schofield, girls who had known her in better days, heard of her plight, and endeavored to help her. One of them, for $50 to assist her in making a new start in life.

Though her babe, for whom she had the wild mother-love so common to such cases, was taken from her by death but a few days after its birth, and though her resistance has been a continual round of toil since her release from the city jail, the girl appeared at the police station yesterday, sent out fifty letters to various firms requesting bids for school supplies for the coming school year. These will be opened on April 28.

The extent of the buying during a school year is shown by some of the items for which bids are asked. Among these are 1,500 gross of pens, 5,000 pounds of paper, 2,000 gross of sheets of examination paper, 2,000 gross of sheets of practice paper, 2,000 sheets of drawing paper, 50,000 pairs of water colors, 1,500 pairs of scissors, 15 pounds of rubber bands and many other similar items.

Since her release the girl has been given employment by a charitable inclined woman of the city, but because of her ill health she has been able to do but little in return for the kindness extended to her.

Though still refusing to give any information concerning her real name Marie McGuire is making a determined effort to "redeem" in word, and asserts that as soon as she is fully recovered and can afford the expense she will return to her home.

CRACKERS AND CHEESE IN SALOONS GO WITH ENFORCEMENT OF THE NEW ORDINANCE.

Following a conference with a large deputation of prominent saloonmen yesterday afternoon, Chief of Police S. M. Barlow announced that, to prevent possible friction concerning the display of crackers and cheese on bars in saloons, the full letter of the ordinance concerning free Thineas would be enforced.

"I at first thought that small things of this nature would not be a serious violation," said Chief Barlow yesterday, "but after talking with different saloonkeepers I have decided to have it all cut out, in order that no one might take advantage of the leniency and then claim immunity on the grounds that I had permitted a small violation."

"I find that there is a decided sentiment in favor of midnight closing among the better class of saloonmen, and it appears that all have been keeping open after midnight because a few insisted on doing so, and the balance were forced to do so to retain their trade."

"I do not believe there will be many, if any, violations of the ordinance, except the closing of the lowest class, and it won't take long to deal with them."
